

Carequality promotes the secure exchange of data across health information networks to inform clinical decision making, create better health outcomes and lower the cost of care through its Carequality Interoperability Framework.

Carequality has a defined, independent, and non-biased Dispute Resolution Process led by our Steering Committee and Advisory Council to address conflicts, potential violations, and differences in interpretation of our requirements between framework Implementers and Connections.

*This document serves as a summary of Carequality's Dispute Resolution Process. For a detailed description, please review our process here.